Dear Students,

The best part about the beginning of the year is that you are here! For those of you who are returning to the Mount, welcome back and to the new students I want to congratulate you on choosing Mount St. Mary's and heartily welcome you to the college. I look forward to joining all of you at various events as we celebrate the "spirit of our 76" years. Good luck to all of you and may you have a fulfilling and blessed journey this academic year.

Jacqueline Powers Doud
President

Dear Athenians,

It is my honor to welcome you to academic year 2001-2002. I am confident that there are many wonderful and challenging opportunities ahead for each of you. Your abilities will be tested and strengthened, your dreams will be sharpened and your sense of self will be defined and refined. To be a leader and a scholar, to be true to your own values and to respond with compassion to the community around you, to face the wonders and horrors of world politics and global ecology----this is what you are called to do. These things place you in the center of true learning, a place where the lessons taught help you to become more fully human.

I hope that you will embrace the year ahead with passion and honesty. I wish you fun times with friends, moments of peace and reflection and a pride that comes from knowing that you did your best. Above all I wish you a deepening sense of the mystery from which all truth comes. May this be your best year yet.....

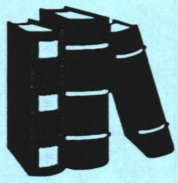

Good journey Athenians!

Dr. Jane Lingua, Vice President for Student Affairs

Driving Courtesy Helps Build Good Neighbor Relations

The Mount has worked very hard to build good relations with our neighbors in the communities surrounding our campuses. At Chalon, we have created a Town and Gown Committee of representatives of the College and the community to discuss ways to ensure the quality of life of our students and neighbors.
One of the biggest issues we face is the traffic to and from our Chalon Campus. Driving near campus takes us on narrow residential streets that have no sidewalks. Please help ensure the safety of our neighbors by obeying the speed limit and keeping a watchful eye for them, their children, and their pets. Please keep the volume on car stereos down, too -- just as you would like your own neighbors to do.

In accordance with an agreement with the Brentwood Homeowners Association, vehicles traveling to the Chalon Campus are required to use Bundy Drive and the "one-way loop" (see below) by turning right onto Norman Place from Bundy Drive when approaching campus, left on Chalon Road and right into the Mount St. Mary's College driveway. When exiting the College, all vehicles must turn right on Chalon Road and proceed to Bundy Drive. Do not use Norman Place to travel southbound from campus. The speed limit is 25 mph on the streets near campus. Failure to observe the law and College policies may lead to disciplinary action and the loss of parking privileges.

You can help reduce traffic by participating in the MSMC carpool program and earn passes for free lunches, cash, preferred parking, and prizes, too! Contact the Office of Student Activities and Commuter services at ext. 4120 for more information, or visit their Web site at: www.msmc.la.edu/Student_Life/Commuter_Services/commuter_services.htm

Counseling and Psychological Services
H101 ext. 4114

The devastating tragedy of the recent terrorist attacks on America has affected people in a myriad of ways. From grief to horror to outrage, we all have been touched by these life-altering events. After a crisis or trauma, people may experience a variety of emotional, cognitive, physical and behavioral symptoms of stress. Although people respond to crises differently, there are common reactions that accompany crises and it is important to take care of yourself so that your symptoms do not overwhelm you. The following is a list of some typical responses and suggested coping strategies. Remember that these are normal reactions to abnormal events and that you may go through varying degrees and stages.

Behavioral Reactions

-Social isolation -Increased alcohol/drug use
-Restlessness, agitation -Inability to relax
-Changes in activity level -Impaired work/school performance

Emotional Reactions

-Shock, denial, numbness -Survivor guilt
-Grief, sadness, depression -Mood swings
-Outbursts of anger & irritability -Feeling helpless, hopeless
-Fear, anxiety, panic
-Increased need for control

Physical Reactions

-Fatigue -Exaggerated startle response
-Insomnia or hypersomnia -Headaches, back pain,
-Changes in appetite -Nausea, stomach aches
-Nightmares -Trembling

Cognitive Reactions

-Poor concentration -Difficulty making decisions
-Flashbacks of disturbing images -Intrusive thoughts
-Memory problems -Decreased problem-solving abilities

Coping Strategies

- Alternating physical exercise and relaxation, especially within 48 hours of the event, can decrease physical symptoms.
- Reach out and connect with others. Share experiences about how you learned about the event, how you feel now, and how your life may have changed.
- Express your feelings in verbal, written and artistic forms.
- Let yourself cry.
- Pray, meditate or attend religious services.
- If you are feeling down, try to plan an interesting activity every day, focus on a special event, and remember you have a future.
- Participate in community events to remember the victims (e.g. wear a yellow ribbon) or to help survivors (e.g. donate blood).
- If you have changes in appetite, try to eat regular, and balanced meals.
- If you are experiencing sleep problems, keep regular bed-time hours; do something relaxing one-hour before bed.
- Take breaks from the media coverage of the events (e.g. turn off the television).
- If you are fearful, spend time with trusted friends and family members
- Try to get back to your normal routine.
- Generally, these symptoms diminish over time; however, if they persist or interfere with your daily functioning, it is helpful to talk to a counselor.

On a final note, another way to cope with crisis is to focus on what we can learn from the experience. The Chinese character for the word "crisis" is a combination of the words "danger" and "opportunity." While the danger of this crisis has certainly shaken our world, may we somehow find opportunities for growth from this experience.

- Got questions? What would you like to know about Mass? What would you like to talk about? Have you ever wondered why Catholics make such a big deal about Sunday Mass? Do you wonder why it's done the way it is? Or how Mass has changed over the years? Or why it's different from one parish to another, or different at the Mount from what you were used to at home? Right after the 7:00 PM Mass this Sunday, you'll have a chance to ask your questions and talk about your own feelings. This conversation will be led by Fr. Felix Just, S.J., who is a professor of theology at LMU, and frequently speaks about scripture and liturgy in local parishes, at the Religious Education Congress and at the Archdiocesan Liturgy Conference. Fr. Felix is beginning his fourth year of ministry with us at the Mount, and he's looking forward to a chance to talk with you further about the Mass.

- Want to learn even more about the Mass? Come to the Archdiocesan Liturgy Conference, which will be held at the LA Convention Center between Thursday night, October 11 through Saturday, October 13th. For the first time ever, the Archdiocese is especially inviting college students to come on Friday, October 12th, for an all-day session on ways of understanding the Catholic Mass and ministries. It will conclude Friday night with an Evening Prayer for the entire conference, led by the high school and college students present that day. Congratulations to Rachel Simonelli, who has been chosen as one of a group of college students who will be leading others in the workshops of the day!

- Congratulations and much gratitude belong to four Mount St. Mary's students who assisted Cardinal Mahony last Sunday in a special Mass for the Los Angeles Police and Firefighters, following the September 11th tragedy. Cardinal Mahony led the police and firefighters in recommitting themselves to public service in times like ours, while Rochelle Zuniga, Hazel Rios, Margarita Rivas and Maylene Batangan were acolytes and thurifers adding their usual dignity and prayerfulness to the Mass. Thank you all for your service!

Annual Campus Security Reports

On Tuesday, October 16, Dr. Mari Wadsworth sent a campus-wide email announcing the completion of the 2000 Campus Security Reports for Mount St. Mary's College and included two Word documents of the Chalon and Doheny reports. Since then, a few people have notified Student Affairs of difficulty in accessing the attached files. Below are the instructions to open the security reports.

1. Open the original email message containing the security reports.

2. Click on the attachments, one at a time, and save each one as a Word or text document to either a disk or your hard drive.

3. Open your word processing software and click on the saved file to read the security report.

If you continue to experience difficulty in saving or reading the files, a hard copy of both the Chalon and Doheny 2000 campus security reports are available in either Student Affairs at Chalon (H200) or Residence Life at Doheny (McIntyre).

These reports provide important information about the safety concerns and issues on our campuses and the constant attention to the security of the entire Mount community is the responsibility of us all.

MARY'S DAY 2002

Mary's Day, the annual academic honors and college awards convocation, will be held this year on Saturday, April 27th, beginning at 2:00 PM in the Little Theater (Chalon campus).

The recognition of our senior achievements is an important part of the graduation process at the Mount. One way each of us contributes to this experience is by participating in the selection of the award recipients: some awards are determined by students, some by faculty, and yet others by staff. Also, by lending our presence on Mary's Day we demonstrate our pride and happiness in the achievements of our students and friends.

Please plan to join the Mount community in honoring these students who will be recognized on Saturday, April 27th. All students, faculty, staff, administrators and their families are invited to attend the Mary's Day ceremony and reception.

O GOD,
It seems as though our lives
are one test after another, weighing us in somebody's balance.

Save us from taking the coming tests
too seriously or too lightly, but grant that we may reflect the best of the work we've done and the best of the teaching we've received.
Amen.

PARKING TICKET APPEALS

A parking ticket appeal form is used to appeal a parking ticket that you believe may have been issued in error or improperly. The appeals form must be submitted to Facilities Management Department within fourteen calendar days of the issuance of the ticket. Late appeals or appeals that are vague or incomplete will not be reviewed. All appeals must be typed or printed clearly. Please print your appeal response to the facts directly related to the issuance of the ticket appeal .

A Parking Appeals Committee (PAC) will review the completed form within thirty days of the submission of the form and send you their decision in writing. The PAC will render a decision on an appeal based upon only the facts submitted. The PAC cannot consider issues which may have significance but were omitted from the appeal.

PAC is composed of members from the Associated Student Body, Residence Life, Faculty and Staff. The respective governing boards of these organizations select their member representatives.

All decisions by the Parking Appeals Committee are final and binding.
